

DFI Transparency Tool

DFI TRANSPARENCY TOOL

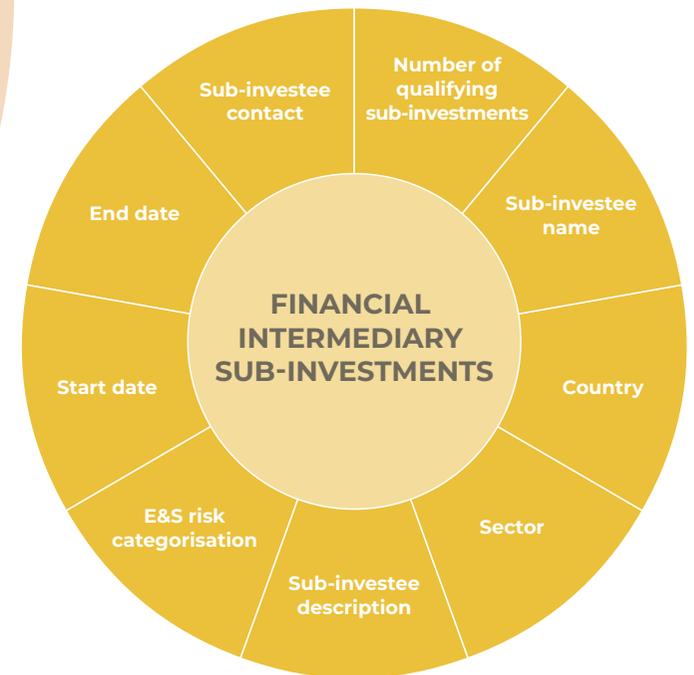

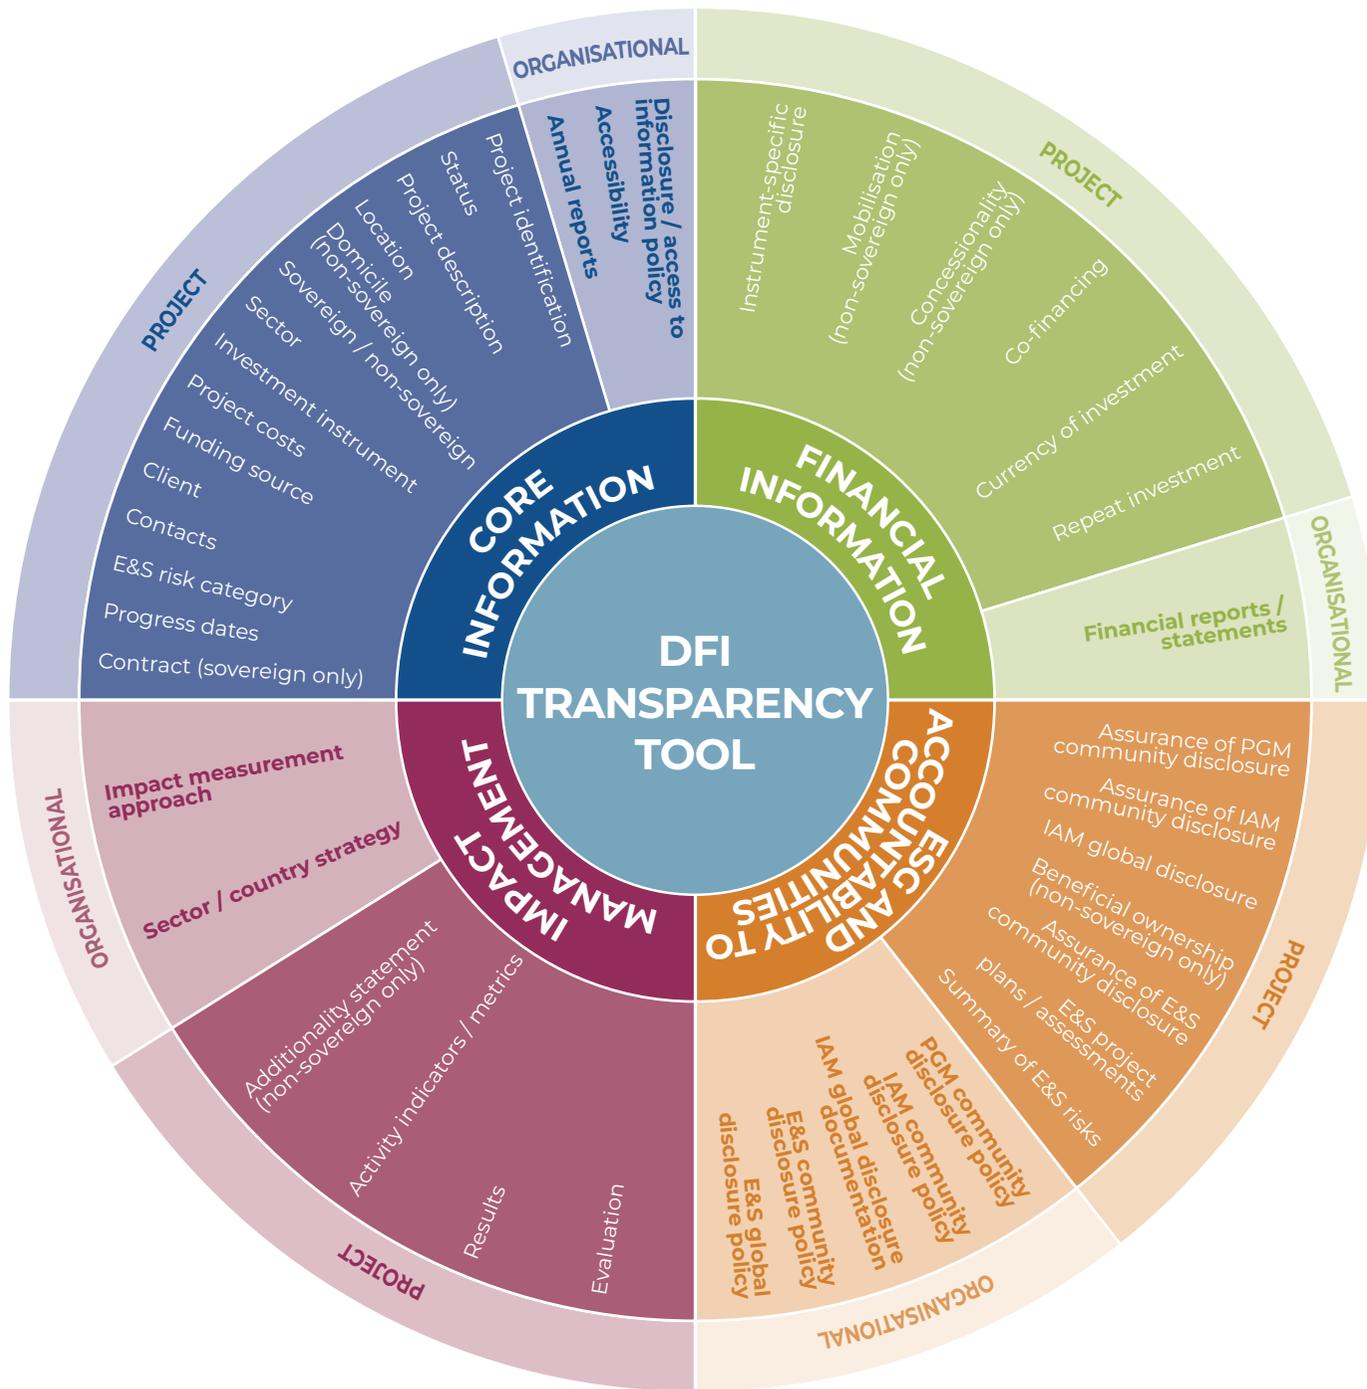

Publish What You Fund has developed the DFI Transparency Tool to improve the systematic and timely disclosure of relevant information by development finance institutions (DFIs). The tool is designed to meet two functions:

- Provide detailed, granular guidance to DFIs on the information they should disclose.
- Provide the framework for analysis by which Publish What You Fund will measure DFI transparency in an initial public pilot index in late 2022.

This DFI Transparency Tool is the culmination of two years of in depth and collaborative research assessing the disclosure practices of the world's leading multilateral and bilateral DFIs. Further details of our research findings and the rationale for the tool can be found in our Advancing DFI Transparency report.

DFIs can improve their transparency by providing comparable, timely, and relevant information for use by a range of stakeholders in line with the specific information fields included in the tool.

CORE INFORMATION

ORGANISATIONAL LEVEL INDICATORS

1. Disclosure / access to information policy	Does the development finance institution (DFI) have a disclosure or access to information policy? For bilateral DFIs does the disclosure/ access to information policy include reference to a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)?	Publish What You Fund completes an assessment of the quality of disclosure policies based on the overarching approach taken in the Global Right to Information (RTI) Rating. FOIA: The definition used in the Global RTI Rating is that it has to be a law in the strict sense. It must include the right of access to information, this right has to be enforceable and there must be compliant, court and high court appeal possibilities. Decrees are included if they meet the same standards. In addition, the FOIA must be in use for at least the executive part of the government; therefore, FOIAs which are only adopted, approved or still in draft form are not counted.	The following characteristics are assessed for disclosure / access to information policies: Presumption of disclosure: to score for this indicator, a disclosure policy must have a specific clause that states disclosure as the rule, thereby requiring a compelling reason for non-disclosure. Limitations on commercially sensitive information and sensitive internal deliberations information: to score on this indicator, non-disclosure clauses related to these matters must (a) clearly define a legitimate interest that is being protected, (b) be limited to protecting that interest against harm, and (c) be subject to a public interest override. To score on this indicator all three sub-criteria must be met. Independent appeals process: to score for this indicator, information requesters must have a right to lodge an appeal regarding the application of the disclosure policy with an independent appeals body which includes individuals that are independent from the organisation and which has the power to make decisions on how the policy has been applied in any particular case.
2. Accessibility	Does the DFI disclose its data in an accessible manner?	The overall accessibility of data through the organisation's portals, project databases or searchable data sources. These are scored using three criteria: 1) the portal allows free, bulk export of data, 2) it contains detailed disaggregated data, 3) the data is published under an open licence.

INDICATOR	SURVEY QUESTION	DEFINITION	ADDITIONAL DEFINITIONS AND NOTES
3. Annual reports	Does the DFI disclose an annual report?	Annual reports outline basic (normally aggregate) information about how money was spent in the previous year, broken down by sector and/or country. This should be backward looking. Annual reports that are up-to-date within their regular cycle, i.e. the organisation publishes an annual report a year behind, the most recent document within this time frame is accepted.	To score for this indicator, the annual report needs to include details of where the organisation is spending its resources and the information needs to cover current activity period. Integrated reports that combine annual reporting and financial reporting are accepted for this field.

PROJECT LEVEL INDICATORS

4. Project identification	Does the DFI disclose a project title? Does the DFI disclose a unique identifier for the project?	The project title is its name. This is preferably the formal name of the activity, but does not have to be. In the case of non-sovereign activities, the title may be given as the name of the investee company as long as it satisfies other requirements. The title needs to be complete with any activity specific abbreviations or acronyms explained. General commercial abbreviations such as ltd. or s.a. are acceptable. The unique identifier is a unique reference ID for the activity, e.g. a project number. It allows an activity to be referred to and searched for by a code, which can be used to retrieve the project from a database or filing system.	For non-sovereign projects the project title may be given as the client's name. The project ID must be stated clearly on the page. It is not sufficient if it is only stated in the URL. It must be numeric or alpha-numeric.
5. Status	Does the DFI disclose the current status of the activity?	This shows the current status of the activity, e.g. whether the activity is currently under design, being implemented, has finished or has been cancelled. For non-sovereign projects the status may be pending approval, active, completed, or similar.
6. Project description	Does the DFI disclose a description of the activity? Does the DFI disclose a project/activity objective/rationale? Does the DFI disclose the expected outcomes of an activity?	The description of the activity is a meaningful descriptive text, longer than the title, explaining what the activity is. A project rationale is the reason an activity is taking place. The rationale could be a narrative or a theory of change. The expected outcomes are the development objectives that the activity intends to achieve. The expected outcomes may be reported as a narrative.	The description of the activity needs to contain a minimum of 80 characters in order to be considered a description rather than just a title. The information can be contained in more than one web page, data field and/or document.

7. Location	Does the DFI disclose the region the activity takes place in?	Region: the region (e.g. sub-Saharan Africa) where an activity takes place.	For sub-national location, capital city of country/countries of activity will be accepted in instances where it is not possible to be more specific.
	Does the DFI disclose the country the activity takes place in?	Country: the country or countries where an activity takes place.
	Does the DFI disclose the sub-national location the activity takes place in?	Sub-national location: information about where the activity is located within a country. This may be a province or city, or it could be geo-coded (whereby the precise longitude and latitude is published). It needs to be stated separately and explicitly.
8. Domicile (non-sovereign only)	Does the DFI disclose the domicile of the investee?	The investee company's (the recipient of funds) place of incorporation.
9. Sovereign / non-sovereign	Does the DFI disclose the activity as sovereign or non-sovereign? Or	Sovereign projects are projects that have been financed with the guarantee of a sovereign entity (a national or sub-national government).	For institutions that exclusively do either sovereign or non-sovereign work, a statement to this effect is sufficient in place project-level disclosure.
	Does the DFI disclose the activity as public sector or private sector?	Non-sovereign projects are projects that have been financed without the guarantee of a sovereign entity (a national or sub-national government, or in some cases a municipality). Broadly, sovereign means public sector financing while non-sovereign therefore means private sector financing.
10. Sector	Does the DFI disclose the sector of the activity?	The sectors of the activity explain whether this is, for example, a health or education project. It does not count if it is just mentioned incidentally within the title or description. It needs to be stated separately and explicitly.	If projects are presented by sector on an organisation's website, it must be clearly stated whether the organisation works only in those sectors that are listed.
	Does the DFI disclose the sub-sector of the activity?
11. Investment instrument	Does the DFI disclose the investment instrument of an activity?	This shows the investment instrument of an activity, e.g. loan, equity investment, guarantee or other investment product. This needs to be explicitly stated per activity.
12. Project costs	Does the DFI disclose the total investment cost?	The total cost of an investment at the time of signing, including financing from co-investors and from the project client.	These should be disclosed in a consistent reporting currency.
	Does the DFI disclose the DFI commitment for the investment?	DFI commitment refers to the financial commitment made by the DFI for the activity as a whole, for the lifetime of the activity. This is generally a high-level commitment rather than a detailed breakdown of the activity budget.	The disbursement figure may vary from the committed amount due to changing conditions after the point of activity approval. Therefore, it should be reported separately from the committed amount.
	Does the DFI disclose the disbursement for the investment?	The disbursement is the actual size of the investment made by the DFI.

INDICATOR	SURVEY QUESTION	DEFINITION	ADDITIONAL DEFINITIONS AND NOTES
13. Funding source	Does the DFI disclose the source of funding for the investment?	A statement on the origin of the funds for the investment. For example, a DFI may state that a project is funded by its own resources or other funds that it manages such as donor trust funds. Where there is more than one source of funding amounts per source is required.
14. Client	Does the DFI disclose the name of the client? Does the DFI disclose a description of the client?	The name of the client company receiving investment. This could include the name of the implementing agency or sponsor. A narrative description of the client company receiving investment. This could include the description of the implementing agency or sponsor.	For sovereign operations the name of the implementing agency should be disclosed. The description of the client needs to contain a minimum of 80 characters in order to be considered a description.
15. Contacts	Does the DFI disclose a relevant DFI contact? Does the DFI disclose a relevant client contact?	A DFI contact shows who can be contacted in relation to this activity at the DFI. This does not have to be the contact information for an individual or project manager and could refer to a central contact or information desk. A client contact shows who can be contacted in relation to this activity at the client. This does not have to be the contact information for an individual or project manager and could refer to a central contact or information desk. These must be stated alongside the activity or on an obvious "contact us" link alongside the activity.	For sovereign operations contact information for the implementing agency should be disclosed in the same manner as described here.
16. E&S risk category	Does the DFI disclose the environmental and social (E&S) risk category of the activity?	The E&S risk rating of an investment or project provides an indication of the level of E&S risk associated with it. E&S risk categories are typically reported by either letter (e.g. A to C) or number (e.g. 1 to 3).
17. Progress dates	Does the DFI disclose the following dates: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Disclosed date? • Approval date? • Last update date? 	Disclosed date: the date at which basic project information has been disclosed to the public. Approval date: the date at which an investment or project is approved by the DFI board. Last update date: the date at which basic project information for a given investment or project was updated publicly.	Both month and year are required to score on this indicator in recognition of recipient countries needing to be able to map activities to their own financial year rather than the calendar year.
18. Contract (sovereign only)	Does the DFI disclose the investment contract for the activity?	Contract: the investment contract signed by the DFI and the client/borrower.

IMPACT MANAGEMENT

ORGANISATIONAL LEVEL INDICATORS

19. Impact measurement approach	Does the DFI publish a methodology explaining its approach to impact measurement? Does the DFI indicate which standards/initiatives it is aligned to? Does the DFI explain its approach to determining additionality? Does the DFI explain its approach to determining impact attribution? Does the DFI have a policy on evaluation of investments?	An impact measurement approach should be either a standalone document or a dedicated section of the DFI website. The measurement approach should identify any alignment to recognised impact management standards (e.g. IRIS+ or Harmonised Indicators for Private Sector Operations) as well as the institution's approach to determining additionality in its activities. Development additionality addresses the non-financial aspects of a private sector DFI investment that would not be provided by the private sector. This may include things such as provision of technical or governance advice as part of an investment. Financial additionality refers to the finance that would otherwise not be provided (or leveraged) by the private sector due to real or perceived risks. This may be expressed through terms (such as loan tenor) not offered by the market. Impact attribution is the relationship between the amount of finance provided and the impacts. An evaluation policy outlines the DFIs approach to conducting evaluations, the level at which evaluations will occur (e.g. sector, region, country), and the factors that determine whether or not an investment will be evaluated.
20. Sector / country strategy	Does the DFI publish sector or (multi-) country strategies?	A sector strategy outlines the approach an institution takes to investing in particular sectors. This may take the form of sectoral theories of change. A (multi-)country strategy paper sets out the organisation's planned approach and activities in the recipient country, group of countries or region. For it to be accepted it needs to be a detailed document rather than just a paragraph on the organisation's website.	If the organisation follows the strategy of a parent or related organisation, a statement clarifying this is needed on the website along with a link to the relevant strategy document. Similarly, if the organisation supports a country-led or developed strategy, this must be explicitly stated on the website and the link to the relevant strategy document needs to be provided.

21. Additionality statement (non-sovereign only)	Does the DFI identify the development additionality of its investment? Does the DFI identify the financial additionality of its investment?	Development additionality addresses the non-financial aspects of a private sector DFI investment that would not be provided by the private sector. This may include things such as provision of technical or governance advice as part of an investment. Financial additionality refers to the finance that would otherwise not be provided (or leveraged) by the private sector due to real or perceived risks. This may be expressed through terms (such as loan tenor) not offered by the market.	Recognising ongoing difficulties with measuring and proving additionality narrative statements will be accepted.
22. Activity indicators / metrics	Does the DFI disclose results indicators for the activity? Does the DFI disclose metrics, definitions and methodologies for the indicators?	Project indicators are the key development outcomes that a project is expected to achieve. Metrics are the units of measurement within the indicators. Definitions and methodologies clarify the use and collection of indicators and metrics specific to the context of the activity.	Disclosed indicators that are defined at an institutional level will be accepted.
23. Results	Does the DFI disclose baseline data for identified indicators? Does the DFI disclose a target value for the indicators? Does the DFI disclose an actual/current value for the indicators?	The baseline value for the indicator is the value of the indicator at the point that an activity commences. A target value is the intended final value of an indicator. A record of the achieved result for this period is the current value for the indicator for the most recent reporting period.	If the activity has ended, then the actual results should be available within 12-months of ending.
24. Evaluation	Does the DFI disclose whether an evaluation been completed for the activity? If so, does the DFI disclose the evaluation?	Evaluation and review documents consider, for example, what the activity achieved, whether the intended objectives were met, what the major factors influencing the achievement or non-achievement of the objectives were and an assessment of the impact, effect and value of the activity. This information may be on a specific evaluation section of the organisation's website. If the activity under assessment is not completed but interim evaluation or review documents are available, these will be accepted.	Not all organisations carry out formal evaluations for all their activities. In cases where an evaluation has not occurred this should be clearly stated.
